

Please refrain from interfering with the Wisconsin State No-Call list. Citizens of Wisconsin have overwhelmingly identified telemarketing as their number one consumer complaint.

WE DO NOT WANT TELEMARKETING CALLS. END OF STORY. They are annoying, they are superfluous. I have never once responded favorably to a telemarketing call.

Most importantly, telemarketing firms target the evening hours, which is the only available time for family interaction. In the end, these calls interrupt dinner, conversations and other family activities.

We in Wisconsin value our privacy and do not want our homes and lifestyles interrupted by unwelcomed solicitation.

So lay off our laws and stand up for those "family values" that the current administration supposedly prides themselves on and respect the privacy of Wisconsin families and what little time we have to spend together.
